- Frances Janisch Photographer

Meshell's passion and excitement captivated me in The VISION seminar I had the honor of attending. She has developed a unique process to guide people through what's most important to them-and then help them capture that vision in words and art. She also teaches participants how to live their vision and how to share that vision with others in the form of service. If you are looking for a dynamic and motivated speaker who will truly touch you and your participants on a soul level, Meshell should be your top choice.

- M. Shannon Hernandez - Content & Brand Coach

Meshell Baker, describe her in one word... WOW!! She has motivated me to a new level of passion for what I do. Which has immediately taken my team and business to a new level of success. I recommend Meshell for anyone who is wanting to get to the roots of what is holding them back from their full potential in work and life. Thank you, Meshell!
